

Model kayak, Labrador, late 19th/early 20th century, 27.7 cm

This model kayak is of typical Labrador Eskimo form, including the two baleen strips fore and one aft of the hatch (Hawkes, 1916). The carving style is also characteristic of the Labrador Eskimos at that time period.

Hawkes, E. W. (1916): The Labrador Eskimo. Canada Department of Mines, Geological Survey, Memoir 91, Government Printing Bureau, Ottawa.

Ivory model Labrador Eskimo kayak (From Hawkes, 1916, Plate XXV a)

Wood and skin kayak model from Ungava Bay showing the form of the Labrador kayak (From Hawkes, 1916, Plate XIV A.b.)